The West Coast Homesteading Expo Expands to Two Shows in 2027

After an overwhelmingly successful debut, show producers add Vancouver event while returning to Puyallup!

Tacoma, WA (May 2026) – Following an incredibly successful debut year, the West Coast Homesteading Expo is expanding in 2027 with the addition of a second event in Vancouver, Washington, while also returning to Puyallup for its second annual show. The expansion comes after more than 5,000 guests attended the inaugural event, with vendors selling out of products and educational stages drawing standing-room-only audiences throughout the weekend.

The West Coast Homesteading Expo will take place on Saturday, March 6 and Sunday, March 7, 2027 at the Clark County Event Center in Vancouver, WA, followed by a return to the Washington State Fair Event Center in Puyallup on Saturday, March 20 and Sunday, March 21, 2027.

The event welcomes individuals and families that are homesteaders — or simply interested in learning more self-sufficient skills — with education, products, demonstrations, and community focused on modern homesteading. Whether attendees live on acreage, in suburban neighborhoods, or in apartments with container gardens, the expo aims to provide practical skills and inspiration for every stage of the journey.

Bird + Duck Media owner Nadine Kohler says, “The response to our first event exceeded our expectations. We knew there was growing interest in homesteading and self-sufficiency, but seeing thousands of attendees, packed stages, and enthusiastic vendors confirmed that people are hungry for education, community, and practical skills. Expanding to Vancouver allows us to serve even more people across the Pacific Northwest.”

Vendor participation and feedback from the inaugural event demonstrated strong demand for a dedicated homesteading event in the region.

“We loved this event. We are hoping to reserve the same booth for next year! It was a great success. We do a lot of events and by far this was the best one for us,” shared exhibitor Julie.

The 2027 events are expected to expand on popular programming categories including gardening, sourdough and baking, food preservation, livestock, apiculture (beekeeping), urban farming, self-sufficiency education, kitchen demonstrations, homestead animals, and sustainable living practices. Organizers are currently recruiting sponsors, exhibitors, speakers, and demonstration partners for both locations.

Exhibitor opportunities are available for vendors in categories including garden supplies, nurseries, landscaping, sheds and outbuildings, farmer’s markets, yard tools and equipment, seed companies, animal feed and care supplies, veterinarians, real estate, sourdough, canning and food preservation, food storage, baking and cooking, livestock supplies, artisan makers, and more.

“The community aspect of homesteading is just as important as the skills themselves,” says Kohler. “These events create opportunities for people to learn from experts, meet businesses that support their goals, and connect with others who are building more intentional and self-sufficient lifestyles.”

Attendees will enjoy:

- Workshop stages with expert speakers
- Live demonstrations
- Homesteading-related product sales
- Homestead animal features
- Giveaways and prizes
- Expanded kitchen and baking programming
- Family-friendly activities
- And much more!

About the West Coast Homesteading Expo

The ALL NEW West Coast Homesteading Expo is a community-focused event produced by Puget Sound event company, Bird + Duck Media, LLC. The team aims to provide a high-quality platform for sharing and learning about homesteading with a focus on urban and micro farming serving the communities of west side communities of the PNW. As new generations seek to control their food sources, the homesteading culture is being embraced with new vigor. The expo features workshops with expert speakers, live demonstrations, homestead-related product sales, animal features, giveaways, and much more! From gardening, landscaping, greenhouses, best practices, baking, sourdough-making, seeds, and livestock the show will have something for all current and aspiring homesteaders. Let's turn our city and suburban yards into urban gardens and homesteads!

The West Coast Homesteading Expo will take place in March 2027 in both the Clark County Event Center and the Washington State Fair Event Center.
